

The FCC should not do anything that would interfere with the Indiana Telephone Privacy Law.

The Telephone Privacy Law has been a blessing, I used to get bombarded with telephone calls all day. But since I signed up I very seldom get any, and when I do I don't like it. My phone is for my Private use not for salesmen to call me at home when I am enjoying my home time. If the solicitors was paying my bill then I would have to take all the calls but they don't so I don't want them to disturb me.
